

quorum problem and all those other things.

SENATOR CUDABACK: But I just wondered if we could put like a 5 percent of the last vote or whatever just to make sure that... 'cause it is easier to do it at a meeting if you have 30, 40, 50 people there rather than, you know, a regular vote, whatever. I just wondered if you gave that any thought or....

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Well, yes, we have. The other danger is that if you reduce that quorum number down too far then you've got a small... you know, there's a temptation for small... a small number of people and if there's not good notice the smaller the entity, for example, the smaller the village, that word's going to get around pretty quick.

SENATOR CUDABACK: That's good, isn't it? I mean...

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Absolutely, that's good. That's... as you go to a larger community, though, it's tougher to get notice to people. It's tougher, you know, to notify everybody and there's a larger opportunity for people to come in.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Yeah. I thank you. If you want the rest of my time, you can have it. Just explain further your....

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: I, Mr. President, I think that Senator Cudaback yielded me the rest of my time, but I'm not sure.

SENATOR COORDSEN: You have a minute if you want it, if that's what all of the motions were about.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: I think... I... Senator Cudaback's head's shaking and I hear it...

SENATOR CUDABACK: I did.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: ...so it must be correct. Thank you. The other thing that, Senator Cudaback, as we begin to look at how you're going to treat the smaller entities, I mean our biggest problem is there's some entities that are doing things out there that you really can't imagine. I mean, some own nursing homes, the community. Some have various other things out there and they're doing a lot of things. A number of these communities also, when they'll come to talk to you, will say, I've got a
